the gap between the rich and poor is widening across the globe this book explores whether this major societal challenge of our time can be addressed by the means of competition law the primary goal of today s competition law is to ensure that market power does not lead to an inefficient production of goods and services nevertheless even such efficiency oriented curbing of market power may arguably contribute to the reduction of differences in how much people own and earn furthermore many competition law regimes do take into account distributive considerations too the chapters investigate the relationship between competition law and economic inequality from philosophical historical and economic perspectives their inquiries concern the conceptual foundations of competition law and doctrinal frameworks of individual jurisdictions as well as specific problems and markets as such the book provides a novel and comprehensive overview of whether and how competition law can contribute to more equality in both developed and developing countries the book is a must read for researchers public officials judges and practitioners within the competition law community it will also appeal to anyone more broadly interested in issues of inequality and economic policy the book modern macroeconomics is adorned with illustrative examples drawing on data from Indian macroeconomy to help students relate the stark theory to the real world situations the book is the key reading for undergraduate students as there are new developments and complications in the world of macroeconomics over the past several years the book contains a number of mathematical derivations and conclusions as such the students are expected to have a grasp on the basic mathematical techniques even though they are supported by ample graphical illustrations the book includes business cycles which in most cases originate in the form of shocks of some kind or other thus posing challenges to macroeconomic management the book has dealt with at least one such shock in the form of COVID-19 pandemic with its fallout on the world economy it may be mentioned here that by the time the book was going to the print another shock of greater magnitude was brewing in the shape of Russia-Ukraine war threatening to lead to world war III however this macroeconomic shock could not be taken up at its premature stage our socio-economic innovation ecosystem is riddled with ever increasing complexity as we are faced with more frequent and intense shocks such as COVID-19 unfortunately addressing complexity requires a different kind of economic governance there is increasing pressure on economics to not only go beyond its traditional mainstream boundaries but also to tackle real world problems such as fostering structural change enhancing sustained growth promoting inclusive development in the era of the digital economy and boosting green growth while addressing the divide between the financial sector and the real economy this book demonstrates how to apply complexity science to economics in an effective and instructive way in the interest of life-enhancing policies the book revolves around the non-negligible problem of why economics to date seems to be inadequate in guiding economic governance to navigate through real and ever-intensifying complex socio-economic and environmental challenges with its interdisciplinary approach the book scans the nuanced nexus between complexity and economics by incorporating as well as transcending the state-of-the-art literature it identifies ways to trigger opportunities for behavioural change in the economic profession with respect to how and what to teach introducing and developing further complexity economics taking into account the configuration of its main principles and outlining the silhouette of next-generation economic governance the book deciphers recommendations for economic theory practice education and economic governance it will be of interest to students scholars academics think-tank researchers and economic policy practitioners at the national and or supranational levels
